Directions: Read the passage. Then answer the questions that follow it.

The Song of Wandering Aengus

by William Butler Yeats

I went out to the hazel wood,
Because a fire was in my head,
And cut and peeled a hazel wand,
And hooked a berry to a thread;
And when white moths were on the wing,
And moth-like stars were flickering out,
I dropped the berry in a stream
And caught a little silver trout.

When I had laid it on the floor
I went to blow the fire a-flame,
But something rustled on the floor,
And someone called me by my name:
It had become a glimmering girl
With apple blossom in her hair
Who called me by my name and ran
And faded through the brightening air.

12. Which myth or folktale forms the motif of the poem?

A. the Cinderella folktale, in which a poor young woman becomes a beautiful princess
B. the Midas myth, in which everything someone touches changes to silver or gold
C. the myth of transformation, in which a mystical being takes a human form
D. the folktale in which a fisherman catches a fish that grants him three wishes